

Orthopedic Surgeon Relationships

Charlottesville is fortunate to have talented Orthopedic Surgeons associated with UVA and Martha Jefferson Hospital. I have offered below the names of doctors with whom I have most experience. There are many qualified surgeons at the two institutions that are both personable and capable of providing excellent care for you or a family member. GM Pugh, PA-C will continue to practice, and we will know at which program soon. I highly recommend GM for your general Orthopedic care and opinions regarding specialty referral. Monticello Community Surgery Center is an excellent facility, well run and staffed with excellent surgeons. I suggest keeping MCSC in mind for outpatient procedures and referrals.
